DATES TO JULY 11.

Congressional

WASHINGTON July 9.—In the House the consideration of the reconstruction bill was resumed Brooks spoke at length in opposition to the bill as an utter violation of every natural and national law which had no parallel in history except in the conduct of the Duke of Alva

Wood denounced the bill as unconstitutional generally and in detail

Stevens announced his intention to move the previous question, first modifying the mode of removal of district commanders punishable by dismissal from the army or for sickness

Schenck, Baker, Butler and others, proposed amendments Stevens declined to receive any

The House sustained the previous question

After speeches from Stevens in favor of the bill, it passed by a vote of 110 to 3

After the transaction of some important business, the House adjourned

WASHINGTON July 9.—In the Senate Trumbull's reconstruction bill was taken up Trumbull addressed the Senate in support of the bill He said for some period of time whether short or long the military had authority to preserve peace and govern the country until civil government is inaugurated How long that military government should be continued, was a question which was left to the discretion of the sovereign power of the United States, exercising its authority in specifying which of our institutions was a subordinate institution It was agreed that military power should not be continued longer than was necessary How long, must be decided by circumstances of which Congress is the judge not the Executive, or the Judiciary The President had properly continued military authority for a time in the absence of legislation Had the civil governments he undertook to inaugurate in the rebel States been loyal and true to the country, they would have been recognized and the whole question of reconstruction would have been settled But the President withdrew the troops and left the civil governments in the hands of men who controlled them during the war Congress declared them not legal, but govern ments existing by sufferance only; that there being no legal governments, military power must be continued He characterized the Attorney General's opinion in many respects as preposterous and explained the provisions of the bill before the Senate

Wilson denied the power of elections in regard to civil officers In the South placed in the second section of the bill

WASHINGTON, July 10.—In Senate Mr Trumbull from Judiciary Committee, reported a bill to give effect to the reconstruction act of March 2d, which, after objection being made by Mr Sumner was read twice and ordered printed It contains similar provisions to that already set The first section declares that the true intent and meaning of the act is that the military authority shall be paramount to Civil Government in the rebel States, and prohibits the civil authorities from interfering with the military power The second section gives the District Commanders power to remove civil officers subject to the approval of the Commanding General of the army to suspend or remove any person holding a civil or military office derived from any State or municipal authority, whether by election, appointment, or other authority The commanders shall provide for the trial and punishment of such officers by detailing some competent officer or soldier of the army

The third section declares the General commanding the army is invested with the same power of the removal and appointment

By the fourth, previous acts of commanders including removals and their appointments are confirmed

The fifth provides that boards of registration shall use all the means in their power to ascertain whether persons applying to be registered are entitled to registration in fer the reconstruction acts of March 2d and March 23d last, the oath required by said acts not to be deemed exclusive but parol testimony to be taken touching the qualifications of any person claiming registration

The sixth declares the true intent and meaning of the oath prescribed by said acts not committed where parol testimony can be taken touching the qualifications of any person claiming registration It declares also, the true intent and meaning of the oath prescribed by said acts to be, among other things, that no person who has been a member of any State Legislature or held any executive or judicial office in any State, whether he has taken the oath to support the Constitution of the United States or not, and if he afterwards engaged in the rebellion and has given aid and comfort to the enemy shall be entitled to be registered, and the words executive and judicial officer shall be construed to include all civil officers created by law for the administration of the general affairs of the State.

By the seventh, commanders are authorized at discretion to extend the time for registration to October 1st, and boards of registration may give twenty days notice of the time and place of election to revise registration lists for a period of three days and strike out the name of persons not entitled to registration such persons not being allowed to vote; also during the same period to add to the list the names of all qualified persons not previously registered No person to be entitled to register or vote by reason of any executive pardon or amnesty for any act which otherwise disqualified him

By the eighth, generals commanding districts are authorized to remove members of boards of registration and appoint others instead

Martin Henderson's resolution was adopted, calling on the Secretaries of War and the Interior for information as to the origin and extent of our Indian difficulties

Resolutions were adopted calling for correspondence with the State Departments by Lewis D. Campbell while Minister to Mexico

Resolutions were adopted asking for information concerning the recent events in Mexico It is generally believed that if the truth was fully communicated it would have a beneficial effect in correcting the childish sentiments exhibited on the subject of the just punishment of one who will be regarded as the most arrant fool of the present day

Mr Chandler offered a resolution which went over directing the Committee on Foreign Affairs to make reports concerning Maximilian's decree of October 3d 1865, and Statements of the murder of Mexican officers under it after their surrender, in violation of the usages of civilized warfare

The Senate decided by a vote of five to twenty seven that it could not consider the House resolution of thanks to Gen Sheridan and other Generals pending the discussion relative to the bill to pay the bounties due to the Missouri troops, and then adjourned

Gen Longstreet a Reconstructionist

We commend to our Democratic contemporaries, a careful perusal of the late letter of Gen. Longstreet, on the question of reconstruction. If they would look at themselves in the glass held before them by General Longstreet, they might, surely, discover what impracticable asses they are. He frankly admits that the ideas for which the South fought were rendered obsolete by the result of the war, and that the decision thus rendered between the contending parties, has become the highest of human laws He says "The great principles that divided political parties prior to the war, were thoroughly discussed by our wisest statesmen. When argument was exhausted, resort was had to compromise. When compromise was unavailing, discussion was renewed, and expedients were sought, but none could be found to suit the emergency. Appeal was finally made to the sword, to determine which of the claims was the true construction of constitutional law. The sword has decided in favor of the North, and what they claimed as principles cease to be principles, and are become law. The views that we held cease to be principles because they are opposed to law. It is therefore our duty to abandon ideas that are obsolete and conform to the requirements of law."

General Longstreet says, too, that he finds nothing tangible in Democracy—"nothing to take hold of except prejudice which cannot be worked into good for any one." He refuses to act further with the Democratic party because it opposes the enfranchisement of the colored man and denies the right to legislate upon the subject of suffrage except by the States individually. "The colored man is already enfranchised here," he says, "and we cannot seek alliance with a party that would restrict his rights." The language which we have quoted from Gen. Longstreet, is used, as he says, after maturely considering the suggestion, "to wisely unite in efforts to restore Louisiana to her former position in the Union, through the party now in power."

In strong contrast with this calmly reasonable course of Gen. Longstreet who proved on the battle field his former devotion to the now obsolete ideas of the south, we have in the north a set of Democratic politicians, so mad with the frenzy of partisanism and that Democratic "prejudice which cannot be worked into good for any one," as to yet rave day after day and month after month, about those same ideas which the arbitrament of the sword has declared to be obsolete, and which, if urged to extremities, must prove most hurtful to the South. Democratic Editors, while the war was in progress, thought Gen. Longstreet worthy to be copied—except as to the matter of fighting, with villainous gunpowder, a proceeding for which they had no stomachs. Gen. Longstreet is wiser now, and Democratic politicians may profit by his better philosophy, if they will.

The "Situation" in California.

For a few days after the meeting of the Union State Convention, it was thought that many of the adherents of the Union Bulletin, etc., would vote the Democratic ticket; but the platform and nominations of the latter, put an effectual end to that expectation. The Union has since favored a "National Republican Convention" to revise the Union ticket, and a call has been issued for such a convention to meet at Sacramento on the 16th inst. It is proposed by this scheme to get rid of Gorham, Parks and McCarthy to substitute for them, men who will be more subservient to the behests of the Union, Bulletin & Co. Meantime, while matters have been progressing to this stage, most of the disappointed rival candidates and most of the newspapers of the State which were at first disposed to be recalcitrant, have fallen into line under the banner of Gorham and the straight ticket. The efforts of the Union and other soreheads to reorganize the "Republican party" have not met with very extended acquiescence. The convention for that purpose will probably be held; but the time when it was possible to effect changes on the Union ticket, or to organize another party with any chance of being respectable in numbers, has already passed. The following quotations from California papers, will serve to show what is the prevailing sentiment among Union men, respecting the soreheads:

The Sacramento Record says:

All the Union papers of the State now support the Union ticket except the Bulletin, "Union" and Democrat. The "Union" has ceased to exercise its usual habit of manufacturing public opinion by selecting the most scurrilous items from the interior papers; because the interior papers are loyal, and it is now forced to depend upon extracts from the loyal Examiner, the partisan Bulletin and the honest Call, or upon some sore-headed correspondent in Jackass Gulch or Grouseville's Glory. By its silence on the subject it confesses that the efforts to compose a new party from disappointed office seekers, has been a weak and unavailing failure.

The Calaveras Chronicle says:

Immediately upon the adjournment of the Convention, that merchantable sheet, the Sacramento Union, its pastor, the Rev and the San Francisco engineer, the Bulletin, were informed that it would be their advice to Union men to vote the Democratic, in preference to that portion of the Union ticket that was obnoxious to them. Convinced, however, by the determined stand and tone of the entire loyal press of the State that their attempts in that direction would only tend to strengthen the party they wish to disrupt, and finding they had mistaken the temper of Union men, they have all united in their advice to Union men to form organization under the name of the "National Republican" party. The sole object of this movement is to defeat the Union nominees.

The Alta, of July 2d, says:

The Marysville Appeal in authority for the statement that one of the "Old Guard," at a scrubbed meeting lately held in that city, said that the State was waiting to see what San Francisco would do before making any steps in reorganizing the Republican party. Our rural friends need not wait. The scrubheads in these parts have come to the wise conclusion, apparently, that discretion is the better part of valor, and that an organization which had nothing better for its foundation than the chuckle and gust of disappointed office-seekers, stands but little chance of being anything more than a flash in the pan, politically speaking. The "Republican" movement here is a fizzle

The editor of the Amador Ledger, who was an unsuccessful candidate for State Printer, writes:

Whatever of dissatisfaction may have existed with reference to our nominees, from real or fanciful grievances, both, a disappearing like fog before a summer morning's sun. It could have hardly been expected that any considerable number of the Unionists of this State would hazard the destruction of the party by continued criminations of its regular nominees. Both the Republican and Union parties have sacrificed too much for their principles to now surrender them up for men

These, of course, are only a few the of expressions from staunch and steadfast members of the Unionparty, which might be multiplied indefinitely. So far as we can judge of the spirit of the Union party throughout the State, it is that it must stand or fall by the platform now laid down and the ticket now in the field. That the campaign will end in success, seems to grow more and more certain every day.

In October, 1864, the Democratic Press of San Francisco, whose editor is now teaching Democracy in Oregon, said:

One of the most contemptible devices by which ignorant and unreasoning prejudices is turned to party account, is that of inciting class jealousies, whether of section or religion.

The Democratic party never stood a moment on any other foundation than the prejudices of section and the prejudices of class—the South against the North; the Southern gentlemen against the Northern mudsill and greasy mechanic. Gen. Longstreet, a former Democrat, and who tried since the war to affiliate with the Democratic party, says he could nothing in it but prejudice. The deduction is a fair one that "the most contemptible device" is the only device the Democratic party has left and that it is, therefore, a "most contemptible" party

The President said very truthfully, at Raleigh, North Carolina, "My race is nearly run." He did not, however, bequeath to his audience either the constitution or the flag.

It is estimated that the mines of Montana will yield not less than $3,000,000, this year.

STATE ITEMS

A man by the name of Cook was killed on Coos river, June 25th, while engaged in felling timber He leaves many friends and relations to mourn his loss

Great numbers of cattle are still being driven out of the Willamette Valley by way of Lorter's and the Burlow road Mr McLaughlin of Yamhill county started a day or two since with over 400 head

We learn that the Catholic Fair, which concluded yesterday at the Brick Church on French Prairie, netted $800 says the Herald of the 11th The money is to be applied to repairing the church, and aiding the Sisters' School there

The Board of Commissioners for the sale of school lands consisting of Gov Woods, Secretary May, acting Treasurer Patton and I R Moores, agent for the Board, held a sale of such lands at La Fayette on Tuesday, resulting in the disposition of lands to the value of $7,200 One tract of ninety five acres brought $31 per acre At Hillsboro on Thursday, the sales amounted to $600 There were but few persons in attendance at the latter place

Our Indian Policy

The following twaddle about the correct policy to be observed in our relations with the Indians, is from the N. Y. Times, whose editor understands the Indians of the plains just about as well as the Indians would the uses of the various articles in the Times' printing office:

The tenor of the letters and dispatches forwarded for publication from the Indian country indicate a desire on the part of our military authorities to have the Indian Bureau transferred from the Department of the Interior to the War Department. We are informed that the army officers are unable to do as they wish regarding the Indians because of the interference of the civil officers of the Indian Bureau The line of policy which the War Department would adopt toward the Indians has been indicated during the past few years in a manner which does not commend itself to the humane portion of our people.

The destruction of Indian villages, the slaughter of Indian men, women and children, repeated threatenings of severe punishment for trivial offences, and the too frequent execution of such threats, do not mark a line of conduct calculated to win the red man to peaceful pursuits, or to secure their good will and respect.

The troops, and the border settlers also, (encouraged by the example of the troops,) seem to have acted upon the belief that "Indians have no rights which the white man is bound to respect" The example set by Colonel Chivington, in massacring in cold blood, without provocation, and without a subsequent rebuke, a whole camp of Indians, old and young, male and female, has given the cue to settlers and others, until an Indian has come to be regarded by them as of no more account than a prairie dog or a coyote, and to be shot down with as little reluctance. Those settlers are anxious that the military authorities should control Indian affairs, for the reason that they believe that force is the only argument to be used in dealing with them.

The management of Indian affairs certainly could not be much worse than it has been of late, but it may be doubted whether any improvement would be effected by giving the War Department and army officers supreme control. Should this be done, the policy would be simply to prevent the Indians from pillaging and murdering, and to retaliate where prevention was impossible. No thought of civilising or improving their condition would enter into the heads of those having authority, nor would it be expected of them. They would be sufficiently occupied in caring for their troops, without attending to the education of squaws and papooses. But that this can be done, and the condition of the Indians so improved as to render them inoffensive, if not useful, is abundantly proved by experiments already made.

ONE MAN IN HIS TIME PLAYS MANY PARTS. Speaking of a famous counsel, an enthusiastic juryman once said:

In my time I have heard Sir Alexander in nearly every part. I've heard him as an old man and a young woman. I have heard him when he has been as a ship run down at sea, and when he has been an oil factory in a state of conflagration. Once when I was a foreman of a jury, I saw him poison his intimate friend, and another time he took the part of a pious bank director in a fashion that would have skinned the eyelids of Exeter Hall. He ain't bad as a desolate widow with nine children, of which the eldest is under eight years of age. But if ever I listen to him again, I should like to see him as a lady of good connections, who has been seduced by an officer of the Guards.

DEMOCRATIC LITERATURE.—The following letter was picked up a few days since and sent us as a specimen of Democratic literature. The paper referred to is probably the Courier. We rather like the fellow's idea about plain talk:

COLUMBIA CAL May 30 1867

mr J D Page your paper I have received 1, 2, 3, no, am much pleased with them and all I have to say as a good old democrat is that I do like to see or rather hear a man speak plain I have had men who called themselves democrats to say to me and wince and pinch me to not talk so plain well now plain talk is what I likde prive me of my use of tounge, and then take my rosip give me a man like Brick Pomery.

GOOD ADVICE.—Ex-Governor Brownlow, of Georgia, told the people in his recent speech at Augusta:

We submit to it or fight. If you don't intend to fight, why sit there and growl, and find fault with the decrees of Providence? You claim the protection of the Government. In claiming that protection, is it honorable in you to be its enemy? In peace we should be friends. If you want Northern capital to aid development, you must invite it, and in doing so, treat those whom you invite as your friends. You must look at things as they now are. Your old institutions are gone—slavery is abolished. Start out anew. You must accommodate yourself to the new order of things."

A GOOD THING.—In Richmond, recently, says the Examiner, there was a concert and tableaux for the benefit of the poor. The tableaux, among other things, presented Enoch Arden as he came back from his voyage, looking sadly in the window of his old home to find that his wife had married and was doing something in the Arden business for that other man. While all was still, the large audience, silent as the grave, the one who represented Enoch turned his face to the crowd and slowly asked, "Whose pin here since Ish pin gone?" The Examiner says the effect was absolutely beyond power of description, and the storm of applause which followed the "hit" would have made "Brick" Pomeroy happy for a month, and even forced a laugh out of "Hillsflicker Snickersmacker" himself.

PNEUMATIC DISPATCH.—The Legislature of New Jersey chartered a company to construct a tube between Newark and New York, through which to force parcels by the pneumatic process The Massachusetts Legislature is about chartering a Pneumatic Dispatch Company, to operate between Boston and Roxbury. A company applied to the Legislature of New York for a similar charter, but the members wanted to charge $20,000 to pass the bill, and because the gentlemen interested did not feel like standing this amount of black mail, the bill failed to go through An an exchange remarks, "it may not be many years, however, before our mail and express packages will be sent over the country like wads from a pop gun"

An able writer gives utterance to this valuable secret:

This looking forward to enjoyment don't pay. For what I know of it, I would as soon chase butterflies for a living, or bottle moonshine, for a cloudy night. The only way to be happy is to take the drops of happiness as God gives them to us every day of our lives. The boy must learn to be happy, while he is learning his trade, the merchant while he is making his fortune If he fails to learn this art, he will be sure to miss his enjoyment when he gains what he has sighed for.

The eight hour law in Wisconsin fell dead, upon the day on which it was to have gone into effect. The workingmen of that State having before them the practical experience of their brethren an other States, wisely abstained from all effort to have the law enforced, and continued their engagements as though no law had been passed This is the complexion to which all the laws of that sort, will come at last

The promptitude and the majority with which the House of Representatives passed the supplementary reconstruction bill, must have had a peculiar gyratory effect on the heads of Johnson and Stanberry. Wonder how many "circles" those gentlemen have spun round, in the last two or three days?

In the Democratic Congressional Convention at Memphis, Tenn, on the 7th, colored delegates participated in the proceedings and were placed on all the campaign committees. In Connecticut, the Democratic papers still sneer at and oppose negro suffrage The Southern wing of the party is getting a long distance ahead of the Northern in genuine Democracy.

FROM WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

A DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO — ONE HOUSE BLOWN DOWN—OTHER BUILDINGS INJURED

We received last evening from J B Boulet, the following letter, under date, Vancouver, July 11th, giving an account of a recent destructive tornado at Cowlitz:

On Monday last, at about 10 o'clock A M, a most destructive tornado, accompanied with wind and hail visited the quiet little town of Cowlitz in this Territory, tearing down fences, uprooting trees and destroying everything in its onward course The frame of a fine building, 60 by 15 feet, two stories in hight, just put up through the untiring exertions of the Rev Mr Richard, of the Catholic Church, and intended for an Academy for young ladies, was in less time than is required to pen these few lines, razed to the ground, thus destroying in an instant the work which had required many months to accomplish. The Church, near by, suffered considerably also, having part of its tower carried away and its windows as well as those of the reverend gentleman's residence smashed to pieces Among the other sufferers is Mr. Roberts, who had the roof of his house also carried off, and Mr. How part of his barn's The harvest which for the want of rain presented a very sickly appearance, did not gain much in looks by this storm and promises but little to the industrious farmer in return for his hard toil.

PROPOSED AIR LINE RAILWAY BETWEEN NEW YORK AND BOSTON.—The long talked of project of an air-line railroad between New York and Boston, has recently been revived, and a bill to further it is about to be—if, it has not already been—presented to the Connecticut Legislature If the reader will consult a map embracing the States of Massachusetts and Connecticut, the southeastern extremity of New York State, he will learn by the aid of the following explanation the route of the proposed railroad New Haven is the first point to be reached after leaving this city; thence the road is to proceed to Middletown, at which point it is to cross the Connecticut river, and thence in nearly a straight line is to run through Willimantic, Thompson and Blackstone; whence the course of Boston is clear It is claimed that by this route, the distance by railroad between the Empire City and the Hub will be shorter than that by any existing route by nearly thirty miles, or, to speak more accurately, by twenty seven and a half miles—a full hour's ride in the cars.

The Memphis Avalanche is not delighted with the prospect of the visit of Judge Kelley, Senators Nye, Pomeroy, and others. It wants to know if Southern pride can lower itself enough to listen to such foul brains and fouler tongues and hearts! Surely, surely, "we" have not reached this depth of degradation. In its cheerful way it also alludes to them as "political skunks," a dirty crew whose ancestors, like their descendants, were engaged in the direst and most damnable part of a nefarious traffic. And it inquires, with its usual amiability, why spoon-thief Butler, the old cock-eyed beast, was not sent with them, etc—and so on for nearly a column of adjectives, epithets, and frothy abuse. The poem, "Oh! I'm a good old Rebel," etc., had its origin in Memphis.

THE EFFECT OF MORRISEY'S ELECTION.—The Yreka Journal says:

Our Copperhead cotemporary has become so accustomed to talking about the "ring" and shoulder strikers, since the election of Morrisey, that he can't see anything but the "ring" in everything. He was referee in the Copperhead Convention, but is now promoted to the position of "bottle holder" to the Copperhead candidates, and on election day will become a second in order to "throw up the sponge."

The French Jenkins is even more persevering in his researches and minute in his observations than him of America. Thus he writes: "I was the other day in M. de Lamartine's study. The servant was shaking and sweeping. The magnificent carpet, with a white ground, was covered with snuff. M. de Lamartine snuffs more than twenty old women, and the greater part of his pinches fall on the carpet."

A negro in Pennsylvania lately gave his idea of God's promises in the following words: "Dar is dat brick wall, and de Lord he stan' dar an' say to me: 'Now I want you to go troo dar.' I ain't a goin' to say, 'Lord, I can't.' I get sumfin to do cout it, an' it's de Lord's business to put me troo."

The name "spinster" had its origin in the fact that in olden times no maiden was deemed fit for marriage until she had spun her own wardrobe. Modern wisdom has changed this good old standard of eligibility.

A SUCCESSFUL ESTABLISHMENT.—Among the most successful establishments in the country is that of Howe & Stevens' manufactory of Fancily Dye Colors. NITRO-GLYCERINE is cutting a regular sweep through the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains, and KOHN & NISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have made and are daily making a regular sweep in the high prices of Clothing, Dry Goods, etc. It makes others blush to know that they cannot compete with KOHN & NISHEL in selling such Nice and Fashionable Clothing at such low figures as they are selling them at.

THE MATCH CASES.—During the present term of the United States District Court much business has been disposed of, and before adjournment a still greater amount will be added to the task performed. Expedition seems to be a virtue in this court. Officers are prompt and no delay allowed by his Honor, Judge Deady. We have recorded daily the proceedings, sometimes a mere item, at others of greater length. Our readers undoubtedly have noticed several cases wherein the United States is plaintiff and several other parties defendants, and that judgments have been rendered against the several defendants. We enumerate them: Judgment against H. Hyman & Co., $700; against Mr Walsh, $800; against Mr. Haines, $300. The first is a heavy retail merchant, the second a manufacturer of matches, the third proprietor of the San Francisco Bakery. The actions upon which these judgments were rendered were commenced by the United States for the recovery of the penalty attached to the insufficient stamping of boxes of matches, the law requiring one cent for every hundred and a fraction of a hundred, to be placed upon the box. The actions were commenced upon the complaint of one S. B Beed, formerly a resident of Yamhill county, but for the past few months a mere resident stranger of Portland. Other actions, we understand, are to be commenced on complaint of this individual. Mr Reed is what is aptly called a "common informer." In order to fasten the penalty upon his victim, he made it a point to go to such establishments as he had determined to bleed, and innocently purchase matches, perhaps two boxes, step out of the store, mark them, then proceed home and count and mark them so that he might know from whence they came, and how many were contained. He had the shrewdness to cause to accompany him one Adam Saine—cousin, we think, to complainant—who watched every move closely that he could safely testify when called upon in court of law as to the matches, their mark and their number, thus confirming the testimony of the "informer." As regards the penalty attached to this neglect, the law says it shall be inflicted, after such inducement to men who prefer to make their money through the procurement of a stringent law, one-half the penalty recovered, which is $500 on every box so insufficiently stamped. The law is with the informer, but when the motive of that informer is found to be simply gain, good morals, piety and common decency are against him. The courts are bound down by the taut rules of law, juries are bound to receive those rules from the Court. The witness introduced must be believed unless impeached. But in fact there is no earthly necessity of any false swearing in these cases, as it was a very easy matter to purchase a box of matches containing more than the prescribed three hundred, of unsuspecting and innocent sales-dealers who never once thought that the majesty of the match laws law was being disregarded. Hence, we say that that the informer would be more than a fool to fail in the presence of the gentlemen of perjury, when the path would answer him as well. We have heard various rumors in regard to the magnitude of the contemplated operations of this speculator in the pure miseries of those who have thoughtlessly committed the terrible wrong complained of by this paragon of virtue and law-abiding conduct, citizens and his confederate, in the shape of speculation. It is stated by some that $50,000 will subtract the amount of penalties sought to be recovered, one-half of which will fall as octovers to this concerning witness. Most of the principal items in this case, we are informed from a reliable source, have been gathered for a journey through the channel of justice which we there through our United States Courts.

CLINTON IRON WORKS.—Liberal, generous offers are being made by the gentlemen composing the corporation of the Clinton Iron Works, from Oregon City, from parties in Portland and other points. Now we still cannot comprehension that works of this description should be allowed to be located in Portland. This is the point above all others—the very center of the commerce of the northwest coast, and should command by its position the location of improvements of a permanent character while the Oregon Iron Works in its very limits. Now is the time to secure all enterprises that can be established, and should be built out by parties at other points who have control the location of the large and extensive manufacturing establishment. The idea has occurred to us that some strange things happen in this world, and that our conjecture and thrift might be materially retarded by the change of these works to some other less favorable place. Now is further occasion to us that right here, and at the present time—for the loss of a day may never be regained—is the propitious moment for these interests. Their present prosperity and future greatness, to act, and by timely move secure the rebuilding of the works upon the city limits. A word to this wise is generally sufficient. It is not possible that more will be required of us than we have given, and by our enterprise and zeal have built on the Willamette River, the pride of the patriotism and thrift of Portland. We call attention to the matter, that, if anything is required to be done, business men in Portland with a will and determination may do it.

CIRCUIT COURT—SHELTON, JUDGE.—The following are the proceedings of yesterday:

L.B. Beachley & Co vs. E.F Smith; action on promissory note; judgment for plaintiff for $1,050 48 in coin.
L.B. Beachley & Co. vs. H. H. Snow; judgment by default for plaintiffs, on account, in $3,092 34.
Noah W. Lord vs. H. H Snow; action on account; plaintiffs in sum of $804, coin.
Franklin H. Ramsey vs. Silas L. Adams; action on promissory note; judgment for plaintiff in sum of $540 coin.
Same vs. F. H. Ramsey, S. L. Adams vs. D. Main Brewer; suit to foreclose mortgages, and for attachment of lands on Sauvie's Island for payment of $670 33 coin; judgment and decree accordingly.
Jno F. Pickett vs Charles A. Pickett; suit for divorce; default of defendant entered and cause referred to John Gibbs to take proofs.
Sheldon A Alexander vs. Allen & Fisher; motion for change of venue overruled; ordered not to be taken up for trial until the 23d inst., or soon thereafter as practicable.
State vs. Charles Starr; indicted for assault with intent to kill "Buckskin Bill;" verdict of jury not guilty; defendant discharged.
State vs. Dorville Brown; indicted for having in his possession moulds and dies for counterfeiting United States coin; jury empanelled and will be up for trial today.

AN AMBITIOUS PACKAGE.—S. D. Smith, the gentlemanly landlord of the Western Hotel, received a package yesterday about the size of a brickbat, and with a special note suggesting visions of "Poor Man," "Commissek," "Billy Bail," etc. Sam promptly paid $50 as expressage charges and proceeded to investigate the contents of the package, expecting to hear what friendly chisel so soothing the feelings of landlords generally, when, behold, he was greeted by a piece of brown paper, upon the was written the following:

PORTLAND, OREGON, July 11th, '67.

S. D. Smith, Western Hotel: Rooms and chicken for self-night. Oregon remarkably healthy here—haven't seen a dead chicken on the trip.

Also in the evening four distinguished gentlemen arrived at the Western, and found, at supper, a number of dishes that had no slight affinity for the servitude, but that they disappeared mysteriously—and they didn't fly off on a wing.

U.S. DISTRICT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—In the case of the United States vs. J. Collins, proprietor of the San Francisco Bakery, an action for the recovery of a penalty for the want of stamps on boxes containing matches, which was commenced upon the complaint of S. B Reed of Yamhill, the jury brought in a verdict for the plaintiff of $200. Judge Smith, of the firm of Mitchell, Dolph and Smith, appeared for the defense, and Gov. Gibbs for the prosecution. The afternoon was consumed in the trial of an action against A. Meier for the same cause, on the complaint of the same informer, the evidence was all in, and the case will be argued by Logan & Freidkovich for the defense, and Gov. Gibbs for the plaintiff. The penalty sued for is $1,400 or $50 each on 28 boxes of matches.

PASSENGERS.—The following are the passengers which left San Francisco on the 8th by the Oreflamme, which is expected to arrive to-day: W B Anderson, J. D Evans, D Evans, J Hyman, Chas Wiselman, Gen J Davis and family, H O Grob, J H Hatch, Miss M Reily, Mrs L Loon, Mr Meyer, F. J Hogan, S Dodge and family, Robb and wife, S D Dodge and wife, M W Pike and wife, D Louderback, Mrs J W Ladd and mother, Mrs Crook, J Jones and wife, Miss Noon, Miss Hogg, Mrs Bradley, E Semple, Capt Seward, Chas Seymour, H Rabbichek, J Bornstein, J Fish, Jas Bennett and wife, and thirty in the steerage.

THE HAIR.—This commodity was quite plentiful in the market yesterday. A general desire seemed to pervade each holder to dispose of his entire stock, but no one had desires of accommodating any greater supply, for fear of an overstocked market. The city parson, yesterday, was scalped "Keep cool," was Capt Gregg, of the Sunshine Jane A Falkinburg, who, without incurring, constantly wore a heavy beaver coat. We attributed his exceeding "proof" against heat to his constant visits to the tropics.

FOR VIRGINIA, BAY.—A party of our young pleasure-loving people will leave next Monday morning for Yaquina Bay, on the steamer Santee, and at Corvallis take the coach overland to the Bay. Those contemplating making the journey, are Mr. Wadleigh, of Ladd & Tilton's banking house, Thomas Kaufman, A. H. White, W. F. Albright, E St John and Ed Rees. It is hoped these gentlemen that others will conclude to join them, the principle that "the more the merrier."

BASE BALL.—The first nine of the Pioneer Base Ball club will play for practice, instruction and mutual admiration, the first nine of the Wide-Awake Club. The sport will take place transpires on Saturday evening next, and the Monday next, the Clackamas Club plays the Occidental Club of Vancouver a match game on the Base Ball ground in this city.

THE BARK.—The Fulkinburg is taking on a portion of her cargo at Couch's wharf, consisting of flour and shingles, and when completed, will depart for Westport and take on the remaining portion, to consist of lumber and shingles. The Sandwich Islands is her destination, and will leave this morning or next Monday morning, with Capt. in command.

BREAKFAST.—We were amused not a little to pass down First street, at the corner of Washington, to note the pale and flickering rays of a gaslight burning in midday. Give us light on our midnight perambulations after our work is done, and we will promise to say nothing more on the subject.

JUSTICE'S COURT.—In this court yesterday little of interest transpired. However, E. L. Harris, for being intoxicated, slightly "cheered" and somewhat disorderly, was compelled to pay a fine of $5, and not possessing the "wherewithal," went up to the Hotel de Hoyt.

INSTALLATION.—The following are the officers installed on Thursday last, at a meeting of Ellison Encampment No. 1: N. Lyon, C P; Joseph Buchanan, H. P; C. A. Schmeer, S. W; Ed. F. Albright, Scribe; C. Bills, Treasurer; J. N. Dolph, J W.

LAND OFFICE OF SCHOOL LANDS TO-DAY.—Persons desirous of examining the maps with a view to purchasing school lands at the sale to-day, will do well to call at the Sheriff's office before 12 o'clock, the hour at which the sale will take place.

PASSAGE.—The Senator yesterday brought down freight as follows: 79 bales wool, 20 half barrels butter, 49 sacks bacon, 24 packages hides, 2 cases wagon spokes, 504 sacks flour, 8 boxes cherries, 7 boxes eggs.

MATCH GAME.—On Monday the 29th day of the present month, there is to be a match game of base ball played in this city, between the Occidental club, of Vancouver, and the Wideawakes of Portland.

RETURNED.—Our young attorney friend, R E Byhee, Esq., has returned from Umatilla, to colonize in Portland, where he hopes to remain. We welcome "Bob" back to his old home.

MATCHES UNSTAMPED.—Men take advantage of the insufficiency of stamps on matches, and they are also taking advantage of the low price of Barman Bros' clothing—corner Front and Morrison streets.

Prices: A No 1 suits, $13 to $30; white shirts, $1 50 to $2 25. cassimere pants, $5 to $6 25; rubber neck ties, 50 cents.

COMPENSATION TO MEMBERS OF CONGRESS.—Under the Confederation, members of Congress were paid by the States which they represented, so that framing the Federal Constitution the main dispute was naturally not whether Congressmen should be paid, but by whom and how much. Yet Butler and Rutledge, of South Carolina, would have allowed them no compensation, and Governor Morris was opposed to paying Senators anything. Charles Pinckney, wanted property qualifications exacted of the President and of Congress, proposed that the States should pay their delegates in both Houses; but it was seen that this would place the Government at the mercy of the States, as had already happened, Rhode Island once refused to support her delegation and so retaining them at home. Hamilton argued that payment by the nation would be a guarantee that the number of voting members would never be reduced to a bare quorum. Madison wanted the Constitution to fix the salaries by some less fluctuating standard of value than money, and thought it indecent and dangerous to be left absolutely to Congress. Patrick Henry, in Virginia, feared, as did many other politicians, that Congress would vote themselves too high a salary. Mr. Tyler of the same State, feared less the opposite should happen, and as only rich men could then undertake the office, an aristocracy would be the result. And one of Elbridge Gerry's eight objections to signing the actual Constitution, referring to Art. I., section 6, was "the unlimited power of Congress over their own compensation."—The Nation.

THE SACRAMENTO UNION VS. THE UNION PARTY.—If the Sacramento Union makes the issue "the Union vs. the Union party," the result of such a conflict seems quite certain to our mind. If the Union is determined to divide and destroy the Union party, there is but one recourse left the Union party men—they must make a war of self-defence upon the Union. If it continues its war against the Union State ticket, and manifests a wilful and obstinate determination to aid the Examiner, Express and other Copperhead sheets, in elevating H. H. Haight to the Gubernatorial chair, there is but one remedy left Union men—the Copperheads must support it alone. Union men must withdraw their patronage from it, and subscribe for the Alta, Times and other Union papers which stand by the party. The Union should be expelled from every Union man's house, store and saloon. In a short time, if given support, other papers will be able to supply the nows we now get in the Union.—Appeal.

DIVIDING THE WORLD.—The Pall Mall Gazette, April 4th, in an article on Russian America, says:

"It would be too much to say that these Powers (America and Russia) intend to divide the world between them by and by, but there does undoubtedly exist an idea—a belief not yet so sure as to be permitted to speak out—that this is their destiny; and what is more, there is in both a constant, far reaching, determined effort to that end." The Gazette then goes on and divides this great work, giving Russia the control of the East, and America sovereignty of the West. This picture is in wonderful contrast with that presented in 1861, when the United States were to fall to pieces by civil war.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF IDAHO—BOISE CITY, I. T.—Organized March 11th, 1867, (with circulation) under Act of Congress, approved June 3d, 1864. Authorized capital $500,000. Paid up capital, $100,000. B. M. DuBois, President. C. W Moore, Cashier. Collections of Notes and Accounts on the principal places in Idaho Territory promptly attended to. Exchange for Coin or Currency the Bank can be purchased of Ladd & Tilton, Portland, Oregon.

PERFECTLY EXHILARATING.—Such were our feelings as we stepped into the Music and Art Gallery of W. T. SHANAHAN, on First street, a few days since, and listened to the delightful tones and harmony which came from one of Mason & Hamlin's Cabinet Organs. From the soft breathing flute tones to the thundering bass of the pipe organ, all was equally free and sweet. And why is it other makers cannot produce instruments like these? Mason & Hamlin were the first to introduce the Cabinet Organ, and have gained such world-wide notoriety that it requires the work of two large factories to supply the demand for these valuable instruments.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which operates a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The bass stops are the Forte, Jeu Doux, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bordon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Scotch Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Vorld, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance: from the flute to the Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to the full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—what the name imports. The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Either changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish; have taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $500. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

OREGONIANS should test the merits of DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. While it is highly palatable as a beverage, it is unequalled as a tonic and invigorator. In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. Let the miner who is exposed to hot and dry, wet and cold, be certain to obtain a supply of the genuine Hostetter Bitter, and he will find it a certain safeguard to health. CHOLERA.

MR. PERRY DAVIS.—The benefits I have received from the use of your invaluable remedy, the Pain Killer, induces me to give a word in its praise. Experience has convinced me that for Headache, Indigestion, Pain in the Stomach, or any other part of the system, save the Chills, Weariness, common Colds, Hoarseness, CHOLERA, CHOLERA MORBUS, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Toothache, etc., THERE IS NOTHING BETTER THAN THE PAIN KILLER. I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of the Sick Headache, by using two teaspoonfuls, taken at thirty minutes interval, in a wine glass full of hot water. I am confident, through the blessing of God, it saved me from the cholera in the summer of 1849. Travelling much heat, dust, toil, change of diet, and constant exposure to an infected atmosphere, my system was daily predisposed to dysentery attacks, accompanied with pain, for which the Pain Killer was a sovereign remedy, one teaspoonful curing the worst case in an hour, or, at the most, half a day. I have heard of many cases of Dysentery being cured by its use. Put in the bath, it will stop the toothache. Gratitude, and a desire for its general use, has drawn from me this unsolicited testimonial in its favor.

FROM IDAHO

The Owyhee Bulletin of the 4th has the following

FROM LEMHI

From Mr Holman, who had just returned from Lemhi, we learn that the mines at Lemhi will pay after while, that gold may be found there in paying quantities He thinks that the great trouble in Lemhi is, that everything is overdone. Clothing groceries and provisions are cheaper at Leesburg than at this place, and wages are higher Miners wages are $6 per day, and mechanics cash at $10 per day Mr Holman says that a great stagnation had taken place while he was there He expresses the belief that next season there will be a greater rush for Lemhi mines than there was the past.

MINING OPERATION

Mr Martin has commenced hauling quartz from the Pourman mine preparatory to crushing When the New York and Owyhee mill commences operations, we may expect a lively time A very heavy force will be constantly employed upon the Pourman ledge The company are able and we are informed design to prosecute the work upon the mines with vigor during the season Those who have imagined that the Pourman had failed, will learn their mistake shortly

We are glad to learn that the owners of the Baxter ledge have succeeded in affecting an arrangement with David S. Meek, for sinking a shaft upon the ledge Mr Meek has already sunk the shaft forty feet deep. The ledge at that depth is about one foot wide and very rich. We have seen the average from the dump, and think that it cannot fail to "pan out." The rock exhibits horn silver in abundance.

A STABBING AFFRAY.

A melee occurred on Monday last at the Oro Fino mine, between Andrew Gary and Daniel Powers, in which the latter received two severe wounds from a knife, one on the left side about five inches long, laying the flesh bare to the ribs, and one on the left hip. Powers received medical aid, and is doing well. The cause of the difficulty we have not ascertained

A PROSPECTING PARTY.

D G Monroe, Martin Butler and others are off on a prospecting tour. They propose to commence operations on the headwaters of the Owyhee river. Persons acquainted with the face of the country in that region, express great confidence in the success of this party.

GEN. GRANT WILLING TO BE PRESIDENT.—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial tells how Judge Carter, of Washington, made an effort to get General Grant to take himself off the inside track for the Presidency that Ben. Wade might be put upon the same, and how he did not succeed, but found the General immovably "there"—which is likely enough to be true in substance:

In order to get General Grant out of the way, Judge Carter recently called upon him, and formally and in his most impressive manner, announced to the General that the time had arrived when he must make his decision whether he was willing to be a candidate for the Presidency of the United States on the Republican ticket or not. He told General Grant that it would not do for him to continue in his padlock condition any longer; that the people were looking around for the "coming man," and that if he was going to come, it was time he was coming along. He told him that he wanted to know explicitly—first, whether he would be a candidate for the Presidency, and if so, secondly, whether he would have any objection to having Benj. F. Wade upon the same ticket as candidate for the Vice Presidency. It was noticed that the General gave his traditional cigar an extra twirl in his mouth, and remarked that he was obliged to say that these were rather plain and direct questions. Carter did not hesitate to indorse that proposition, and continued to press the question. General Grant, after a minute's deliberation, said that he did not really feel desirous of becoming President of the United States; that he had been honored and trusted in a degree that was a surprise to himself, and yet he felt that if the people called upon him to become a candidate for the Presidency of the party that had been for the war for the preservation of the Union, he could not feel that he was at liberty to decline; and that, as a matter of course, he could have nothing whatever to say in such a case as to the second portion on the ticket, that, as also the first place on the ticket, was a matter for the wisdom of the people to determine, and he certainly could have no objection to B. F. Wade, of Ohio. All of which was taken by the Ben Wade party, represented in this interview by Chief Justice Carter, to mean in so many words that General Grant was and would be a candidate for the Presidency. This result has in some degree cooled the ardor of the Wade party, but they are full of life and cannot be said to have abandoned the field.

A PANTHER IN AUSTRALIA.—A bush life is a[illegible] and often a very dangerous event [illegible] no occasion, leaving Bungingyou[illegible] had been on duty, to return to Dalhara[illegible] a redoubt eight miles through the forest), at [illegible] pursued by thick smoke in the distance that the [illegible] must be on fire [illegible] where in the direction in which my road lay—a narrow open strip cut from the surrounding wood as far as this place by the government surveyor. Having proceeded several miles, I found myself suddenly in the midst of it, the wind being in a contrary direction, not having warned me of its vicinity.

The trees on each side of the narrow road for many hundred yards behind, were encircled with spiral flames, that crept serpent-like through their sinuosities, or burst out into broad flame when they encountered any more easily combustible matter. The branches crackled and hissed, the flames roared with a sound like distant thunder, and the air was darkened with volumes of smoke, which, as it was driven by the wind in the same direction in which I was riding, I did not feel much of it After, however, having advanced some hundred yards into this "Inferno," I did not feel exactly comfortable, particularly as I had been struck once or twice by fragments of burning branches, and was about to retrace my steps, when I distinguished the sound of a horse's gallop behind me, and presently the postman, with the mailbags for Geelong, overtook me. He told me our only chance was to ride on at the top of our speed, as if we turned back we risked being suffocated by the smoke. Accordingly holding our breath, and stooping over our saddlebows, we put spurs to our horses, who were quite as much frightened as ourselves, and after about a mile's gallop through the blazing avenue found ourselves in a more open part of the forest and out of danger, having escaped with a few singes, a strong feeling of having been half suffocated, and our eyes running with water. In this we were more fortunate than a man who had gone into the bush with a two-horse wagon to get a load of wood. After cutting enough for his team he loaded up and then fell asleep in a sort of rude hut, where two other men had halted similarly fatigued and rendered drowsy by the oppressive heat of air. The fire came on with a perfect whirlwind. The logs of the rude hut were flung in every direction, crushing horses and cattle in their descent, and these, maddened by the flame, the noise, and their loads falling with a crushing weight upon them, defied all efforts to save them. Indeed, his two companions were crushed among the debris, and he escaped only by clinging to the fragments of a post till the tornado swept by, when he at once darted off in a direction yet untouched by the fire and escaped.

THE REPORTED NEW-FOUND ISLAND.—The San Francisco Bulletin of the 1st inst, has the following in relation to the reported finding of a new Island in the Pacific, about 1400 miles west of San Francisco:

The schooner Caroline Mills, M. Turner, arrived yesterday from a reported fishing voyage. She sailed from this port twenty days previous, and after her departure, it was stated that she was to search for the reported island, some 1400 miles west of San Francisco, and failing of finding it, was to proceed to the vicinity of Schumingan's Island, and exchange some salt for the fish caught by the schooner Porpoise, and leave the latter to catch another cargo and return here For the short time she has been absent, it is plain she never went to the fishing grounds, and a rumor is current this morning that Capt Turner found the island, and has returned to make his claim to its possession good We are informed that the mate of the Caroline Mills yesterday stated that the Island had been found, but parties interested, state the contrary as the result of the voyage

Since writing the foregoing, we learn that Capt Turner has engaged an extra large crew of men and sailed at noon in the Caroline Mills for a destination unknown. It is reported that the schooner returned without four men of her crew who had sailed in her, and as Capt Turner has made no marine report, and has sailed again under a fishing license, it is considered by seafaring men as proof positive that he has found the island and something very valuable on it

A REASON.—The editor of the Loyal Missourian has been to St Louis and seen "the gorgeous spectacular." He tells his readers: "The proprietor incurred heavy expenses in completing the scenery, and consequently had to cut the girls' dresses rather short."

Quantrell's Desperadoes at Work—A Horrible State of Affairs on the Border.

A United States officer stationed in Texas, just returned from an expedition through the counties bordering on Arkansas, including in the District to which he was appointed writes a very interesting letter to the Batavia (N Y) Advocate, telling something of what he saw and heard

MARSHALL, April 22, 1867.

We finally reached the border and crossed into the Chickasaw Nation Along the border to Arkansas, the country is in a sad condition Civil law recognizes no crime but horse stealing The penalty of this is death as soon as caught. Murder, which is so common, is unnoticed, for the following reasons First—There are very few men who have not, at some time, killed their man, and a jury cannot be found that will convict A true bill is sometimes found, but witnesses are spirited away, or the murderer escapes. Second—They dare not convict, for the remaining gang will kill the jurymen There are roaming bands still fighting, robbing and killing for the Confederacy—a portion of Quantrell's band A gentleman in Red River county told me that they had visited his place very often during the war Those ruffians would sit hours in his parlor and tell of robberies and murders they had committed and laugh at the joke, one of which I will tell as they told it to him They were riding along in a squad, and carrying the Stars and Stripes A German met them and said

"Thank God you have come Do catch Quantrell for he is murdering every one that has any money" Then Quantrell spoke and informed him that he was Quantrell

'Ah, my Gott, I am dead!" Here they all joined in a laugh

"But, you didn't kill him," said the gentleman

'Oh, yes, we killed him 'twas fun to see him pray." Quantrell said he 'hated to kill a man that was stubborn and showed fight, or said nothing, or told them to kill him and be done with it. But I do like to get after a Dutchman and hear them pray for God to spare them I always make them get on their knees and look me in the face, and while they pray to blow their faces to pieces" This incident raised a great laugh and called out another story Leo the first officer under Quantrell, told an incident that happened that morning in the neighborhood, and which was true They rode up to an old man and asked him for his money He was in his yard—an old man seventy years old. They were told he had no money in the house or anywhere else, "and," said Leo, "I killed him. We went to the next house, and an old Dutchman was reading a book. I asked him if he had any money, he answered no, I then took him over to the next house and showed him the dead man lying on his face in the yard" "Oh! Mr. Quantrell, there is a twenty dollar bill in my trunk, take it and let me live" Another laugh The gentleman asked if he killed him "Oh, no, Budd killed him, Budd had never killed a man—a new recruit—and we made him kill him to get his hand in." One man said after the first man he killed he couldn't sleep for a week, "but" said he, "I have killed eighty-two, and I'll just as soon do it as kill a dog." I will not relate any more of these horrible stories, they are too terrible to think of Yet these Union people have been obliged to live through the reign of terror for years The rebel portion of the community killed, but did not rob, as did Quantrell. In Cook county, forty-two Union men were hung to one limb for loving the Government. The names of them and the parties who murdered them are known. There is a day of reckoning coming, and it is not far distant A portion of this Quantrell gang are now on the border, Red River county; we are doing our best to catch them. If we succeed, they will probably come to grief. Such is the condition of society, yet these people, as a mass, raid against the "military usurpation bill," because desperadoes does not get time to break jail, or be bonded out until the next term of the court Their trials are short and decisive. They go "up" or down in a hurry—sometimes both.

The Executive Council of the National and Fashionable Association for the Vindication of Female Rights to the Enlightened but Enslaved Enchantresses of England—greeting:

Ladies! Non-Electors!—It has been asserted by timid men, both in place and out of place, that you are not to be trusted with that sweet thing in politics—the suffrages!

Mark those words 'not to be trusted,' and inscribe them in your work-box cushions in pins with a peculiar point.

The aspirations of beauty for electoral privileges are natural and noble. Breathe soft, ye winds, and waft a sigh from Lydia to the poll!

Calumny whispers that you are too accessible to flattery—that a handsome candidate would certainly be carried by a show of hands in primrose gloves (elixes), that a knowledge of figures (not arithmetical) and a willingness to admire and praise them would supersede all other qualifications.

Let such discreditable views be at once dissolved, and let Pall Mall have ocular demonstration of your Spartan severity and scorn.

Avoid agitation as you would a younger son.

Exhibit no chignons, but let your demeanor be distinguished by a lofty, dignified, and independent air.

Listen not to sophists, who tell you that beauty was born to be honored and adored, nor weep if to secure a vote you lose a votary.

By order of the Council.

SLAVERY IN BRAZIL.—The New York Times of May 31st says

Slavery has not yet been abolished in the empire of Brazil The announcement of its abolition, which we got by way of England, through the Atlantic cable, was premature. The real facts of the matter, as we are now assured by the Counselor de Azambuja, late Minister of Brazil, were given in an article from the Rio Diaro, which we translated and published in the Times of the 17th instant. The statement there given was official and authoritative By this it appears that the Brazilian Council of State has elaborated a project for emancipation, which is, however, to form the groundwork of future legislative discussion. This project provides for the complete extinction of slavery at the close of the present century, but it also provides for the commencement of the work immediately, by enacting that from the date of its promulgation all children born to slaves shall be free, and that a fund shall be appropriated for the annual purchase of a certain number of slaves The official organ says that all Brazilians are in favor of the spirit of this plan, as all detest the institution of slavery in its principle. There are sufficient reasons for being satisfied that the plan will be adopted before long. In the note of Counselor de Azambuja to Secretary Seward he says that he does not doubt "that this measure is already received upon by my Court, in principle at least, to go into effect as to the manner of execution with the concurrence of the Legislative Chambers"

YANKEES ENIGHATING.—A letter from Chicago alludes to the unusual emigration from the East this spring not of foreigners but of New England people of the old stock, chiefly from Massachusetts and Connecticut There is a very rapid change of population going on in our manufacturing towns Foreign working people have come in to such an extent as in many villages to constitute the controlling element, and the natives do not find it pleasant to live among those whose religion and social and domestic life is so unlike the New England style The introduction of unskilled laborers has also had the effect to reduce wages and create more marked distinctions in society, and so the Yankee retires in disgust and seeks a new home in the West He will be likely to find there also the evils he seeks to escape, unless he goes with a company of New England men who will locate together, and this is now the favorite mode of emigration, and New England villages are to be found in Minnesota, Iowa and Kansas, and are beginning to show themselves in Missouri You may know them by their neat churches and schoolhouses and by the trees and flowers in their fenced yards A purely western or northern village is only a cluster of shabby houses in a common piggery —Springfield Republican.

THE WOODEN WALLS OF ENGLAND.—We find the following in a late English paper

Five line of battle ships and five first class frigates were sold the other day for £98,000 These ten ships have an aggregate tonnage of 26,000 tons, an aggregate nominal horse power of 4 010, and average age of about twelve years only the boilers and machinery of most of them are in seagoing order, indeed, one 80 gun ship has never used her engines since converted The original cost of the ships was about £2,000 000, to say nothing of about £2,000 000 more spent in converting three of them into screws

Many anecdotes are told of Porson, showing his readiness in rhyming. We heard one not long since, which we think is worthy of a place with those of Porson A certain young man offered to make a rhyme with any word proposed The word "Timbuctoo" was given, and he at once gave the following

A missionary went to Timbuctoo,
They ate him up and his hymn book too

Letter from Gen Longstreet

HE UNITES WITH THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN THE GREAT WORK OF RECONSTRUCTION

[From the New Orleans Republican, June 9th]

NEW ORLEANS, May 16, 1867.

General James Longstreet—General In your admirable letter of the 6th ultimo you remark that our efforts at reconstruction will be vain and useless unless we embark in the enterprise with the sincerity of purpose which will command success"

The spirit which inspired the above paragraph, together with the fact that thousands of brave soldiers are still ready to follow their leader wherever he may see fit to call them, has emboldened me to extend an invitation to attend a mass meeting at Lafayette Square to-morrow evening, at which the Hon Henry Wilson, a distinguished leader in the Republican party, will address the citizens of New Orleans.

As soldiers, we were opposed to each other during the late war, but as citizens may we not wisely unite in efforts to restore Louisiana to her former position in the Union through the party now in power, and which in all probability will remain in power for many years to come? If you accept, I shall be glad to hear your views on the condition of public affairs.

Respectfully yours etc,
JOHN M G PARKER.

NEW ORLEANS, La, June 1 1867

J M G Parker, Esq—My Dear Sir Your esteemed favor of the 15th ult., was duly received I was much pleased to have the opportunity to hear Senator Wilson, and was agreeably surprised to meet such fairness and frankness in a politician whom I have been taught to believe uncompromisingly opposed to the white people of the South.

I have maturely considered your suggestion to "wisely unite in efforts to restore Louisiana to her proper position in the Union, through the party now in power." My letter on the 6th of April, to which you refer, clearly indicates a desire for practical reconstruction and reconciliation Practical men can surely distinguish between practical reconstruction and reconstruction as an abstract question. I will endeavor, however with renewed energies, to meet your wishes in the matter The serious difficulty that I apprehend is the want of that wisdom which is necessary for the great work I shall be happy to work in any harness that promises relief to our distressed people and harmony to the nation It matters not whether I bear the mantle of Mr. Davis or the mantle of Mr Sumner, so that I may assist in bringing the glory of "peace and good will toward men"

I shall set out by assuming a proposition, that I hold to be self-evident, viz The highest of human laws is the law that is established by appeal to arms.

The great principles that divided political parties prior to the war were thoroughly discussed by our wisest statesmen. When argument was exhausted resort was had to compromise When compromise was unavailing, discussion was renewed, and expedients were sought, but none could be found to suit the emergency Appeal was finally made to the sword, to determine which of the claims was the true construction of constitutional law. The sword has decided in favor of the North, and what they claimed as principles cease to be principles, and are become laws. The views we held cease to be principles because they are opposed to law. It is therefore our duty to abandon ideas that are obsolete and conform to the requirements of law.

The Military bill and amendments are peace offerings. We should accept them as such, and place ourselves upon them as the starting point from which to meet future political issues as they rise.

Like other Southern men, I naturally sought alliance with the Democratic party, merely because it was opposed to the Republican party. But as far as I can judge, there is nothing tangible about it, except the issues that were staked upon the war and there lost. Finding nothing to take hold of except prejudice, which cannot be worked into good for any one, it is proper and right that I should seek some standpoint from which good may be done.

If I appreciate the principles of the Democratic party, its prominent features oppose the enfranchisement of the colored man, and deny the right to legislate upon the subject of suffrage, except by the States, individually. These two features have a tendency to exclude Southern men from that party, for the colored man is already enfranchised here, and we cannot seek alliance with a party who would restrict his rights. The exclusive right of the State to legislate upon suffrage will make the enfranchisement of the blacks, whether for better or for worse, a fixture among us It appears, therefore, that those who cry loudest against this new order of things as a public calamity are those whose principles would fix it upon us without remedy. Hence it becomes us to insist that suffrage should be extended in all the States, and fully tested. The people of the North should adopt what they have forced upon us, and if it be proved to be a mistake, they should remove it by the remedy under republican principles of uniform laws upon suffrage.

If every man in the country will meet the crisis with a proper appreciation of our condition, and come fairly up to his responsibilities, on to-morrow the sun will smile upon a happy people, our fields will again begin to yield their increase, our railroads and rivers will teem with abundant commerce, our towns and cities will resound with the tumult of trade, and we shall be invigorated by the blessings of Almighty God, I am, sir, very respectfully, your obedient servant

JAMES LONGSTREET.

THE OLD DOMINION IN DISTRESS.—The whole number of acres of land in Virginia before the dismemberment, was 40,536,000; the fifty counties in West Virginia, 23,190,815—very nearly half the territory of the State. The whole white population of Virginia was 1,047,547; of that part now West Virginia, 255,640—or more than one third the whole population of Virginia. The value of the real estate of Virginia was $377,647,112 17 value of same in that part of the State now West Virginia, $88,763,041, 17. Thus, according to these official estimates, this State loses, with West Virginia, nearly half its territory, more than one-third of its whole population, and nearly one-fourth of the value of its real estate. Virginia had 472,637 slaves valued at $236,423,500, the tax on which in 1860 yielded a revenue of $270, 000. In view of the calamities, of course the credit of the State has suffered severely, her stocks having fallen from nearly par before the war to now thirty-three to thirty four cents on the dollar Add to these losses direct to the State, the vast amount of personal property destroyed, which most seriously affects the revenue of the State, while it produces a degree of suffering and desolation amongst the people unknown on this continent

In regard to the State debt, now over $43,000,000, the Dispatch says it must be "scaled," and one third, the share of West Virginia, repudiated, if that State will not pay it.

THE BOUNDARY BETWEEN OREGON AND CALIFORNIA.—The Sentinel of the 6th, says:

"This is a subject to which the Sentinel has frequently called the attention of our Senators and Representatives in Congress We are inclined to be charitable, but with all our charity we must say that the line ought to have been established long ere this. An ample appropriation has long since been made by Congress, to run a line, and this to a very great extent exonerates our Congressional delegation. But still we think that it would be proper and necessary for them to urge forward the matter in the proper department until it is fully consummated.

All along the line there is a conflict of jurisdiction, between the States of California and Oregon This conflict leads to bitterness of feelings, and will as soon as the line is established, result in exhausting litigation between the border counties Each party, for a long time relied upon their local surveys, which failed, to coalesce for miles, and each party feared the collection of taxes over the disputed territory, with a strong hand Finally, Oregon being the weaker of the two, gave way, and since that time California officers have had it their own way, and a clear field

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its Forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents, guardians friends, attend to the sufferings who are suffering with any of those horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Bar point and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. The solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical means, viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to former acquaintances a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes; pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and finally insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not fail of the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay
